

Boys of Troop 37 Receive Awards At Court of Honor

At a Court of Honor held on Tuesday evening in the recreation building of the Joliet Arsenal boys of troop 37 received awards for their progress in Scouting.

Lt. Col. M. B. Chatfield, executive officer, field director of ammunition plants, who made the presentation, addressed the group on the material contribution the Boy Scout program is making in building for better citizenship.

THOSE RECEIVING honors were: Bob Guenzler, Wallace Johnson, Bob Reichenbach, David Lloyd, Leon Witherspoon, Bob Maxwell, Tom Albright, Henry Rohs, Brad Chatfield, Jim Pearre, Jim Benson, Garry Schipporeit, Bill Carr and Roger Gagnon.

A basketball game was played between the Flaming Bomb and Illini Patrols with the latter team winning 19 to 15. Following the game, gifts were exchanged and refreshments served by a committee under the direction of Mr. J. M. Pearre and Mr. H. L. Dean.

Concluding the affair J. G. George, scout master, paid high tribute to his assistants, Capt. R. C. Carson, Kenneth A. Taylor and all members of the troop committee for their co-operation during the past year.

GREAT HONOR—It was a proud moment when Scout Brad Chatfield, Troop 37, was awarded 2nd class rank from his dad, Lt. Col. M. B. Chatfield, executive officer, field director of ammunition plants, who also serves as a troop committeeman.
